Moving — we all do it in many different ways. Students at Nebraska Christian prepare to move on to the future. Although students don't usually think about it, almost everything they do is preparing them for this move. For instance, academics prepare us for our move into college or the job market. Two very practical subjects, English and Bible, are essentials in life that will help us no matter what we do after high school. Bible classes prepare students to have a Christian perspective in everything they do. Also, extra-curricular activities help us move into the future by playing a big part in the development of student's lives. Dealing with the ups and downs of these activities helps students develop character and good attitudes toward others.

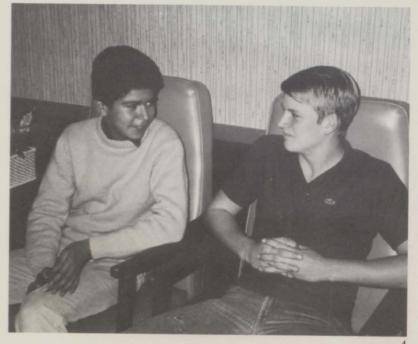

1. "Bible is so much fun." 2. Deb just loves school. 3. Justin is enjoying study hall. 4. Jody and Rodrigo visit about their countries. 5. "That's my wife???" 6. Shayne and Kara want their privacy.

ADMINISTRATION

Due to changes in the staff, the teachers have had to move over to new responsibilities this year. This has caused them to give much of themselves to each new area. I Timothy 4:18 "Be diligent in these matters; give yourself wholly to them, so that everyone may see your progress."

"All right, you guys!"

Wes, prepared for battle with the slopes.

Russ relaxes after a day of hard falls.

Our speaker Tim, showing the correct attitude towards creation.

Jeff and Mike indulge themselves with ID RA HA JE's good food.

The drive-in students present a skit for the evening's entertainment.

Dina's all ready for a day of skiing.

Kerry looks to bag her next victim.

Kirby gets doused during an evening skit.

SENIORS

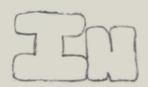

1. Another "S+" Kirby? 2. These girls love to do papers. 3. "I'm bad, I'm bad."

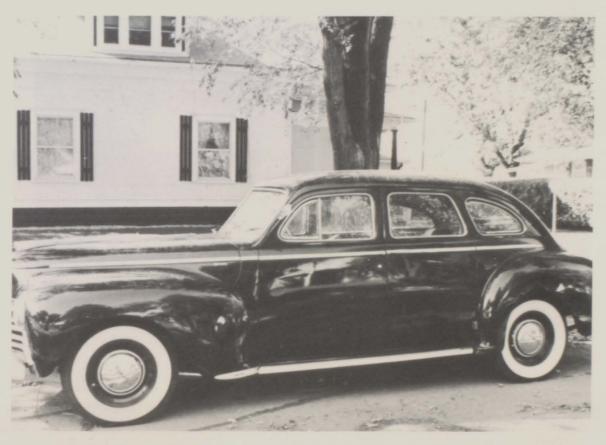

4. Ahhh, Kathy. 5. Mary Jo and Kerry really get into those games! 6. "Histological, arthropodic, and palenontologic synopsis."

STUDENT LIFE

Proverbs 27:17 "Iron sharpens iron, so one man sharpens another." Dorm life has its ups and downs, but the ups out weigh the downs. Even though you miss your family, you are constantly surrounded by people who care, and are able to make lasting friends. Tolerance is very important in the dorms. "You learn to put up with people taking baths at 2 A.M.", says Tammy Wolfenden. All in all dorm life provides an environment where students can strengthen each other.

"I'd rather be fishing."

Pastor Larsen shares with the student body.

Charyse enjoys the privilege of a visit from a handsome man.

The men's quartet provides after dinner music.

Amy Maxson enjoys her last Christmas Banquet.

1. 1988 Homecoming King and Queen were Paul McHargue and Kerry Jividen. Other candidates were: Darwin Binder, Deb Hansen, Dina Gurney, Russ Barnell, Jeff Hower and Kellie Lundt. 2. Melissa and Naoko enjoy the Valentine's Banquet meal. 3. Students enjoy the great salad bar. 4. Julie, her pig, and Lisa dressed up for uniform day.

'87-88 has been memorable because of the many major events which occured throughout the year. The Iran-Contra Hearings with Oliver North, as well as the summit meeting between Ronald Reagan and Mikhail Gorbachev which resulted in the IMF Treaty, will stand out in the minds of many.

October 19th marked the biggest economic crash since the depression as the stock market plunged and many suffered severe financial losses.

The legal tug of war over Baby M sparked debates on the issue of surrogate motherhood.

During the last two weeks of February, millions of Americans again enjoyed the quadrennial ritual of the Winter Olympics held in Calgary, Canada.

Republican and Democratic candidates were actively campaigning for delegates positions in their respective party's presidential primary race.

A wise man said, "Every day is a miracle and unrepeatable. Once lived a day cannot return; we can not change one word of the record history has written, but we can return to the days of the years past."

NEW PRECEDENT SET AT N.C.

History was made at N.C. in the 1987-1988 school year. Girls were allowed to wear pants from December 15 to March 1st. The girls welcomed this as they got cold even though they wore long johns under their dresses. The girls appreciate this new privilege, and the coming winters won't seem so wicked.

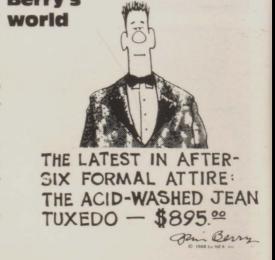

What's "In" in 1987-88

Coca Cola.

Produced under authority of THE COCA-COLA COMPANY, F 186° THE COCACOLA COMPANY

Some day we may look back and world laugh at the "faded" jeans we wore in high school, but for now, stonewashed Guess, Pepe, or Zena jeans are the thing to have. If you're a girl and not wearing jeans, maybe a mini skirt is more your thing; they are certainly in style. It's impossible to go anywhere without seeing the words "Coca-Cola" this year. No matter what you want to buy: jeans, a shirt, socks, and even shoes, they can all be found with "Coca-Cola" on them.

IN THE YEARS TO COME, WILL ...

ACTIVITIES

TOBETTEE

Hebrews 10:24-25a "And let us consider how to stimulate one another to love and good deeds, not forsaking our own assembling together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another." Activities in a Christian high school encourage us to grow together as one body. By becoming involved in the various aspects of school, we can get to know others better and can grow from our relationships with them.

DRAMA

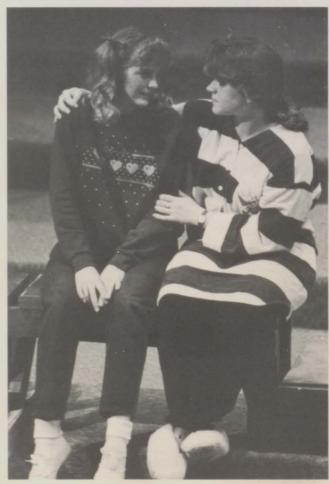

The District Contest cast performing "Tilly" are: (front) Niki Wagner, Chad Jividen, Dina Gurney, Brian Swanson, (back) Shane Jordan, Kirby Hinton, Amy Maxson, Beth Bingley, Deb Hansen, Cheryl Dockweiler.

Below: Thanks goes out to Mr. Hamilton for all his hard work and help in getting the drama prepared.

Behind The Scenes

Amy is making up Chad.

Niki wonders if anyone wants more blush.

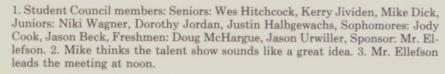

Practice, practice!

A drama class was a new addition to the schedules of 15 students during the first semester. Even though this is the first time in many years for NC to have a drama department, the class decided to enter the Goldenrod Conference and District contests for one-act plays. The play they chose was "Tilly." "Tilly" was aired on Dr. James Dobson's program, "Focus on the Family." It is about a lady who had had an abortion in her past. During a dream she finds herself in heaven where she meets Tilly, her aborted daughter. Having searched for peace, she finally finds it in the forgiveness which only Jesus offers. Senior drama student Dina Gurnery said, "The play was rewarding because we knew we were reaching people with the message of God's forgiveness."

STUDENT COUNCIL

4. The Senior Volleyball girls show the students their "Talent"! 5. Move over Beethoven, here comes Amy and Lynn. 6. Our fearless leader! 7. Which one's the dummy?

REFLECTOR

Miss Lipke always gives explicit instructions. Giving directions to a room she said, "Go past the coffee pot and then turn either right or left."

Some are doers - some are dreamers.

"You mean there's more after I finish this?"

1. Doug McHargue; Dave Kaltenbach; Shane Jordan, Co-Business Manager; Mike Dick; Jennie Pizzolato; Charyse Rogers, Co-Business Manager; Kerry Jividen; Deb Hansen, Editor; Mary Jo Ferris; Julie Kremer; Amy Ferris, Asst. Editor; Lei Ferris; Miss Lipke, Adivisor. 2. "Are you serious, chips have calories?"

2

The yearbook staff has spent much time selecting pictures, writing copy and captions, and drawing layouts in the hope that we have somehow captured those moments in the 1987-88 school year which are meaningful to you. There are many events throughout the school year to put into the yearbook, and we have tried to select the ones which in years to come will bring back many of your high school memories. We hope that you will enjoy this year's edition of the Reflector.

The yearbook staff would like to take this opportunity to thank Miss Lipke for all the time and effort she has put into helping us with the yearbook. We've all known that she has done a lot for us, but until she had back problems and missed the week of school before a deadline, we never knew how lost we would be without her. She has spent hours and hours entering copy and captions into the computer. We're not sure how she finds time to do it, since she spends two or three nights a week helping us with our pages, but we are very grateful for all she's done.

We would also like to thank the individuals and businesses, who, through their advertisements, have made our book possible.

"Well, if you want my opinion ... "

A few staff members were able to attend a workshop in Kearney.

"What's next?"

Deb, Editor and Amy, Asst. Editor compare ideas.

SPORTS

I Timothy 4:8 "Bodily discipline is of little profit, but Godliness is profitable for all things, since it holds promise for the present life and also for the life to come." The actual skills which we learn in sports won't be used by the majority of us after high school; however, the attitudes and characteristics we develop will always be part of us. Learning to react in a Christlike way when you have a bad practice or lose a game is a challenge for each athlete.

FOOTBALL SENIOR LEADERSHIP

Shane Jordan: All Conference 1st team defensive end; Russ Barnell: Honorable mention linebacker; Wes Hitchcock All Conference 1st team guard; Dennis Fling: All Area runningback; Chad Jividen: Honorable Mention cornerback.

"Both good news and bad news struck our team before we ever hit the practice field. The bad news was that senior Kirby Hinton, who we were expecting to take a very active role on our football team, was in a three wheeler accident. Kirby was out for most of the season but did come back from his broken ankle and played sparingly at the end of the season.

When preseason finally got here the bad news continued. We were surprised to have seven new students who were planning to play football this year, but they were ineligible for varsity because of their transfer status. One of those players was Darwin Binder, a senior who came to practice with no assurances that he could play in a single game. What a tremendous display of a giving, sacrificial attitude. The good news was that Coach Mike Bremer was coming back to be our line coach and Jim Tonniges came to us with nineteen years of coaching experience to be our defensive coordinator. This made up one of the finest coaching staffs in recent years at N.C.

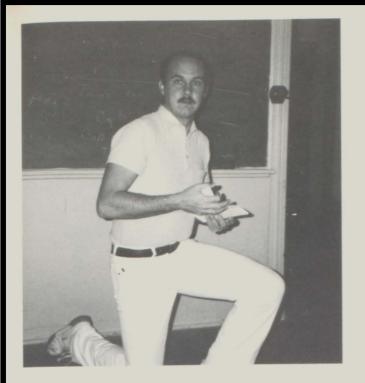

The best news of all was how God's blessings were showered on us as bruises and strains were our most serious injurys. Another blessing was the leadership shown by the seniors. The season was a success not only as the world counts it (5 wins, 3 losses), but more importantly, for the spiritual victories gained as these young men responded with Christian character and grew from their trials. The real victory comes when I hear comments from officials like I did this year saying, "I always enjoy working with your young men."

AWARDS

Mighty in Spirit: Russ Barnell
Total Release: Wes Hitchcock
Humility: Paul McHargue
Dependability: Paul McHargue, Wes Hitchcock
Most Improved: Aaron Weeks

"We shared many opportunities to learn as Paul did, 'to be content whatever the circumstances.' Our Varsity match with Palmer is a prime example. Joy over our 15-0 first game turned to sorrow when we lost the next two. It was an excellent test of our ability to be content.

Unity is always a concern when nineteen girls compete for twelve positions. We struggled of course, but, here again, were opportunities to learn. Comments shared at our social suggested we had learned a lot about Paul's teaching on the importance of each individual.

Thanks for the memories we've shared this season. May God bless you all as your opportunities to learn continue."

Coach Dockweiler

Mary Jo: "With no returning starters I think we proved something to ourselves this year." Kerry: "I felt really close to the players; it was something I'll never forget."

Beth: "Even though we didn't have a winning season, the losses brought us closer, and I still felt it was a good year for us."

Dina: "This year was special, not because we won a lot, but because I felt more love on the team than I ever felt before."

Nancy: "I enjoyed this year because I felt that we grew closer to each other and to God."

Priscilla: "There were a lot of ups and downs, but I think we came out on top because we played our best and had fun."

Lei: "It was a learning experience for all, but a neat bunch of girls to play with made my learning experience fun. I'll always remember the fun times we had together, yelling, dog piling, and running our laps. I wish the best of luck to the girls next year."

Amy: "It was an experience."

Korlynn: "I enjoyed getting to know the team better."

The girls' basketball team was small, but mighty this year. Although they only had one game the whole season, they proved to have great potential. The only game they played was against the Marquette Cubs. They lost a close game. Team members consisted of Seniors: Kerry Jividen, Beth Bingley. Juniors: Lisa Sandoval, Niki Wagner, Jeannie Woodworth, Jennie Pizzoloto. The only Sophomore was Tammy Wolfenden. Mrs. Ed Ritta was the coach.

Begin with a question.

THE QUESTIONS you'll ask during your college years reflect the deepest part of who you are, and who God wants you to become.

At Bethel, your academic questions will be connected to spiritual ones—preparing you to graduate propelled by what you know, motivated by what you believe.

And it all begins with your questions about Bethel. Call or write our Admissions Office.

The Advisor and the Editor of this yearbook were trying to decide what to do with this extra space when they realized that one very important thing had been forgotten — A big thank you goes out to the power plant for providing power for the computer and lighting for the late nights we spent on the yearbook. How would you like to be in the Ad. building in the dark with a computer attacking you?

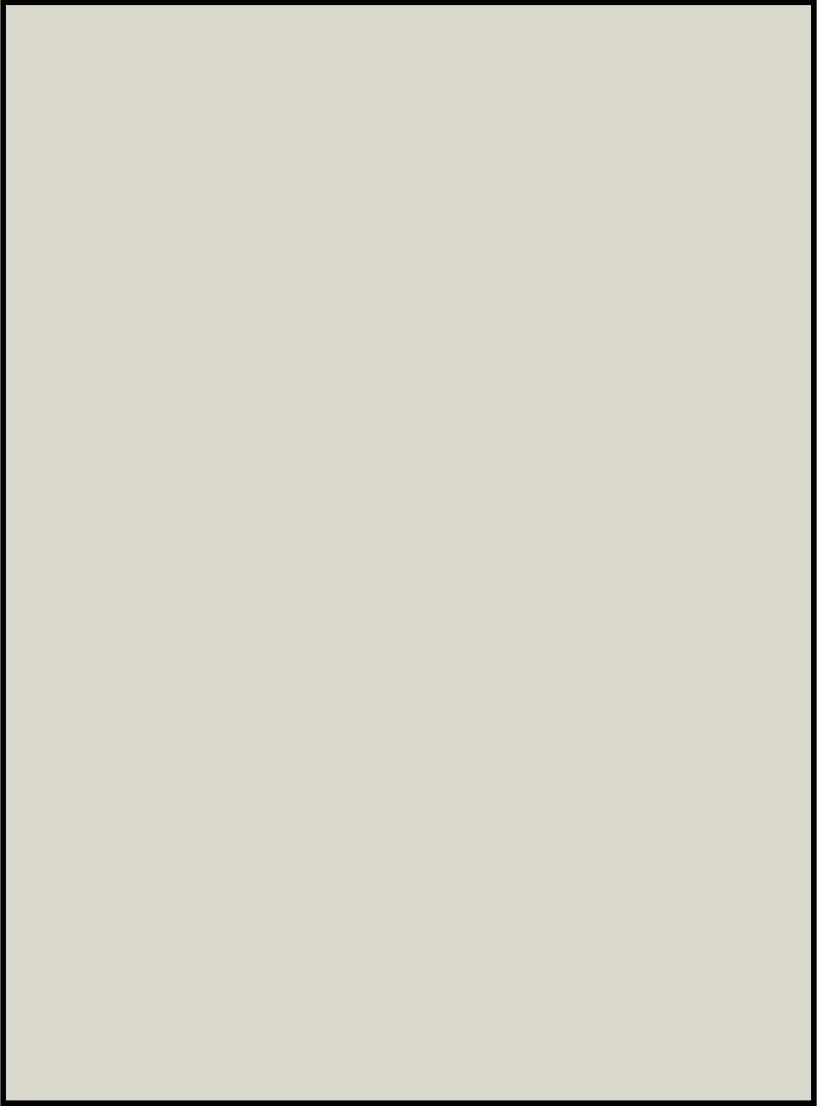

Thanks Guys!
